

Quaker Institute for the Future (QIF)

The Quaker Institute for the Future has been established as a kind of Quaker think tank “to help generate systematic insight, knowledge, and wisdom that can inform public policy in ways that will enable us all to live more fully in ‘the virtue of that life and power’ which leads us to treat all humans, all communities of life, and the whole Earth as manifestations of the Divine.”

QIF publishes a number of thought-provoking and well-researched publications, which can be found online here. A number of QEW friends and supporters also work with QIF on various projects and events.

This summer QIF is sponsoring a summer seminar in Colorado, following the Gathering in early July. You can find out more about the research seminar and get contact information by clicking here.
