QEW Fall 2020 Steering Committee Meeting

Thursday, October 8, 2020 - 15:00 to Sunday, October 11, 2020 - 12:00

You're invited to Quaker Earthcare Witness' 2020 Fall Steering Committee Meeting from Thursday, October 8 to Sunday, October 11 via Zoom (we start around 5pm Eastern on Thursday and end around 5pm Eastern on Sunday).

We'll gather to do business, worship together, learn from each other, and share in fellowship. All are welcome who are interested in Earthcare, whether you currently serve on the Steering Committee or not.

These times are filled with wild weather (hurricanes/flooding, lightning/fires, extreme derecho/crop loss and destruction) linked to the devastating impacts of climate change. These times are filled with growing awareness of racial injustice and an uprising. Our sessions will include exploration of QEW's work on environmental justice and what it means to be an anti-racist organization. Please look out for follow-up emails with additional details, including a draft agenda. Please register as soon as you can – the suggested registration fee of $60 helps support this event, and is optional to encourage all who are interested to attend.

Our sessions are a great way to meet each other, inspire each other with our stories, and create a supportive community. Let's gather to foster a creative, Spirit-led movement to address our ecological and social crises. Last April's Steering Committee via Zoom showed us that this is a great opportunity for QEW Friends to connect across large distances with a minimal carbon footprint.
